Phangela Private Security Services

About The Company

Phangela Group was founded in 2000 and the name Phangela, which means “to work”, is an all-encompassing description of our company culture and attitude. We started as a Labour Broking and Recruiting Company, predominantly servicing the Security Industry. Since 2011 we have grown exponentially, not just in size, but more importantly, in knowledge and expertise. Our shared ambition has forced us to be evolutionary. Our desire to be ever-improving forces us to challenge ourselves every day by simply applying one of our core principles: “every passing minute is another opportunity to improve”.

Industries

- Estate Security
- Retail and Commercial Security
- Banks and Financial Institutions Security
- Health and Education Security

What makes Phangela unique?

The dynamic way in which we operate is unique. In saying this, we are not referring to the industry, but rather to how Phangela operates. We have committed ourselves to the key elements of client focus, as well as superior service levels, which meet and exceed client expectations through professionally managed and highly motivated officers. We have aligned ourselves with reliable intellectual sources to combat crime effectively.
